

Imprimatur and Nihil Obstat

In the Catholic Church an Imprimatur is an official declaration by a bishop that a book or other printed work may be published. The Imprimatur grant is normally preceded by a Nihil Obstat given by a theologian who has the knowledge, orthodoxy, and prudence necessary to review the publication for theological accuracy.

The Nihil Obstat and Imprimatur are declarations that a publication is free of doctrinal or moral error. They do not imply that the grantor agrees with the contents, opinions, or statements expressed in the publication.

When Dr. Kathie Amidei and Sr. Kieran Sawyer applied to the Archdiocese of Milwaukee for an Imprimatur for the Conversations about L.I.F.E. program, they were told that the United States bishops do not grant the Imprimatur for online resources because such resources can be easily altered. They then approached Dr. John Grabowski, the Director of Moral Theology and Ethics at Catholic University, asking him to suggest a reputable theologian who might review the program and, they hoped, grant the Nihil Obstat. Dr. Grabowski recommended Dr. Christopher Klofft, S.T.D., a professor of moral theology at Assumption College in Worcester, MA. Dr. Klofft accepted the challenge and spent several months reviewing each lesson as it was completed. He also helped the authors to make any changes needed to assure the theological and moral accuracy of the lessons.

Upon receiving approval from Dr. Klofft, the authors approached Reverend Jerome Listecky, the Archbishop of Milwaukee, asking for some kind of endorsement in lieu of an Imprimatur. In response to their request, Archbishop Listecky issued the following statement:

After review of this work by theological consultant Christopher Klofft, Ph.D., Conversations about L.I.F.E. has been found to be free from doctrinal or moral error as of August 6, 2019. However, because online materials can be easily altered, there is no guarantee that changes to the material have not been made.

Signed: +Jerome E. Listecky

The Archbishop asked further that the material be reviewed in the future on a regular basis so as to assure that no later changes have been made.

In response to this limited endorsement, Ocreative, the agency that is providing the online version of the program, states:

The materials made available on www.GetFamiliesTalking.org are presented as secured PDFs and PowerPoints. A secure password is required to gain access to edit the final lesson package material files and website content, all of which are protected on the hosting servers. All appropriate security precautions have been put in place to prevent the website, GetFamiliesTalking.org, from being changed or altered by any third party. Any future changes to the content, imagery, and lesson materials will be made only with express request and consent from the Conversations about L.I.F.E. original authors and LoveEd, Inc. The end user license agreement governing the use of the materials expressly prohibits any modifications to the licensed materials, and any modifications can result in termination of the license. For more information on prohibited changes and misuse of the Conversations about L.I.F.E. website (www.GetFamiliesTalking.org) or lesson package materials, please review the Usage Agreement, Privacy Policy, and Terms & Conditions on www.GetFamiliesTalking.org.